SIDE 2: Halloween looks to be a big night in the area; Bob Mould and UVS are playing here at Duke, and Bitch Magnet and King Kong will be assaulting my hearing at the Fallout Shelter in Raleigh. If only Lubricated Goat were playing too, it would be completely horrifying. Besides those Australian weirdoes, No Man, Paris, Chrome, Lard, and Frith's stuff are keeping me glued to the dial. And yes, I must admit, I think the Charlatans and Darling Buds are quite charming and nice. Final notes: What's going on at SST? A greatest hits album and a collection of previously released covers? If it keeps them above water, I wish them all the best. And lastly, would you pay $100 for a bag of Thurston Moore's hair? If yes, you better run to Pier Platters in Hoboken before someone else beats you to it. Maybe SST should get all of its artists to sell their hair. It just might save the label.

Fondly, Greg
